Invitation to participate

“

Aims to connect Chinese dispute resolution practitioners with their international counterparts to form long- lasting relationships and to foster cooperation

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

We are delighted to announce that the 2019 BAC/BIAC North America Summit on Commercial Dispute Resolution in China will be held in this summer. The Summit is one of our most significant events each year, which aims to connect Chinese dispute resolution practitioners with their international counterparts to form long- lasting relationships and to foster cooperation. The Summit is a highly-regarded event which carries the essence of our efforts in promoting international dispute resolution.

Since 2013, BAC/BIAC has launched the Annual Review and Preview on Commercial Dispute Resolution in China and organized correlated annual roadshows, together as the Annual Summit Project. Previous successful roadshows in Europe and the UK, which gathered influential practitioners and generated many thoughtful ideas, are encouraging.

We, therefore, decided to move to North America in 2019, specifically to New York, Toronto, and San Francisco; to strengthen the ties between dispute resolution communities in China and North America.

Especially considering the complex international trade backdrop, we feel like such meaningful exchanges will benefit stakeholders even beyond the dispute resolution circle.

Sponsoring the 2019 BAC/BIAC North America Summit will allow your organization to be associated with one of the most important international events in 2019.

Lastly, please refer to the following links to know more about our previous seminars.
